The Women's Center proudly welcomes the newest doctor to their medical staff: Dr. Alejandro Pena, OBGYN.

Central Florida women have yet another reason to trust their health to the caring staff of The Women's Center. Dr. Pena now joins The Women's Center, a local Orlando, Florida practice specializing in Obstetrics, Gynecology, and Minimally Invasive Surgery. With four locations throughout Orlando and four additional qualified doctors who understand and respect the concerns of today's women, The Women's Center has become the health care provider of choice for many Central Florida women.

Dr. Pena is well-known in the Orlando community, having practiced gynecological services in the area for over 15 years. He maintains a dedicated group of patients who know and trust him and more than likely will follow him to his new home at The Women's Center.

Patients at The Women's Center have grown accustomed to personal, professional service at every visit, and the practice assures that Dr. Pena is the ideal extension of this mindset. Past patients routinely praise Dr. Pena on medical websites, including www.ratemd.com:

"Dr. Pena is very knowledgeable and personable... Not only does he care about me, but he always asks about my husband and how the kids are doing. He talks to you like he knows you and not as if you were just another patient."

"Dr. Pena is wonderful... Dr. Pena even called me himself about my results just so I would not pay for a office visit copay. He takes his time to explain steps and procedures. He's great. Thank you."

Patients can now schedule a consultation with Dr. Pena at the practice's Clermont and downtown Orlando locations for appointments on and after April 6, 2010.
